Following Norman's formative work, narrative has come to be of increasing importance in discussions of the sonic arts. Narrative is the explicit focus of recent and ongoing research by some of the contributors to this volume, as well as, among others, Bill Brunson (2012), John Young (2009) and Elizabeth Hoffman (2013). Narrative has begun to be included as a key component in broader works on electroacoustic music and the sonic arts; for example, in Curtis Roads's recent book Composing Electronic Music: A New Aesthetic (2015), in which narrative is accorded its own chapter, thereby adding it to a list of essential parameters that was historically dominated by the more purely ...
