Robert Sabuda & Matthew Reinhart

Robert Sabuda was born in 1965 in the rural town of Pinckney, MI. As a child he loved books and all kinds of art, two passions which collided when he picked up a pop-up book in the dentist's waiting room! He attended the Pratt Institute in New York City and is now one of the leading creators of pop-up books in the world, having three times been awarded the Meggendorfer Prize by the Movable Book Association of America.

Matthew Reinhart, born in Iowa in 1971, loved to draw as a child but decided to pursue a career in medicine instead. He kept taking art classes, however, and after meeting Robert Sabuda while doing volunteer work at a local community center, he was persuaded to follow his dream of becoming an artist. He attended the Pratt Institute and is now an acclaimed paper engineer for both his solo work and his collaborations with Sabuda.

and more More and more, bam, don't give a damn Pump the music and jam there's no time for the problem Not a thought to solve them Just make sure you get it Show the fellas you wit' it Being proud you did it, never will you forget it There's a way to stop this, listen to the prophets, everything. they said, yo! it should be read. More, he had to tell, things that made him well, L.I.G.H.T. is shining, and my brothers heart crying.
